

Subject-Led Home Learning Projects

Our subject-led home learning projects have been designed to help our students extend their learning beyond the classroom, to practise transferring knowledge and skills learnt in school to other areas of their lives.

The activities in each project are all optional, and provide parents and carers with a list of tasks that can be selected to suit their child's interests and home routines. Above all they should be engaging and fun, not a chore!

How to complete the project:

- Ask your child to choose one activity at a time that interests them to complete. Depending on the task, there may be a level of support/supervision required from an adult.
- Your child may choose to complete each task in a number of ways: producing something on paper, as 3D models, through photographs or videos, or through an adult's written account of actions he/she took.
- Anything produced for the project should be kept together (perhaps in a folder) until the end of term.
- The projects should then be handed in to your child's form tutor before the deadline set.
- Prizes will be given out for the most impressive home learning projects each term.*

Positive Thinking Cap

Design a Positive Thinking Cap.

Draw or find an image of a cap and add as many positive words and phrases as you can – e.g. hard work, determination, happy, reach for the stars!
Use different colours, symbols and styles of writing. Then see if you can transfer your designs to a real cap!

Healthy Eating

Create a Healthy Eating menu.

What would you have for a Starter, Main and Desert?
Draw and label each meal.
What makes each food healthy?

Then get the ingredients and make it up for real!

Keeping Safe

Think about different ways we can keep ourselves safe in the current situation involving the Covid virus.

Design a poster that details different ways to keep ourselves and others safe.

Careers and Aspirations

Think about a job that you'd like to do when you are older. If you're not sure, think about your interests and speak to an adult about what jobs might link to these.

Research what qualifications and skills you might need for your job.

Create a fact book all about your chosen job informing people of what the job involves and what qualifications and skills you'd need to do it.

Helping Out in My Community

Imagine you've been asked to set up a club for a group of young people in your local community.

What activities would you like to do?
How can you make it fun and enjoyable?
Is there any important messages you'd like to get across, like advice for respecting the community and helping others?
Who could you get to come and speak?

Create a timetable for your club, giving as much detail about each activity as you can.

Keeping Active

What do you do to keep fit and active? Do you take part in any sports in particular? What exercise do you take without even realising it!? Like going for a walk, for example.

Keep a weekly diary of all of the exercise and sports that you take part in.

Can you do anything new or different to add to your exercise diary?
